THE OPPORTUNITY

As a Licensing Services Manager 1 (LSM1), you will use your presentation skills and technical knowledge to present ideas and address questions regarding licensing laws and policies to informal and formal groups of 25-200 people. You will also provide professional expertise through your technical writing skills. As part of this job, you will negotiate agreements with stakeholders and other government agencies and you may testify at legislative hearings. In this position, you will use your skills to analyze legislative bills, determine how those bills will impact DOL work areas and communicate those impacts to internal and external customers. You will use your expertise, experience, and leadership skills to accurately interpret laws, rules, and policies, and independently determine when exceptions to established department policies can be approved.

We find that our most successful employees in these positions have typically had experience supervising staff and managing relationships to accomplish work objectives in a fast paced environment. In addition, they will have had a history of easily acquiring and applying a broad range of technical and business knowledge in a short amount of time.

This position requires statewide travel (5%). Use of a state vehicle is available. Incumbents for this position must also maintain the highest level of confidentiality at all times and be willing to work with hostile clients or customers.
